

SEAMi - Call for Award Nominations

2018 Structural Engineer of the Year 2018 Young Structural Engineer of the Year

We are pleased to announce that the SEAMi Structural Engineer of the Year and Young Structural Engineer of the Year awards will once again be presented to two deserving SEAMi members. Nominations are sought from our membership.

SEAMi would like to recognize members who are helping to make a positive impact through the profession of structural engineering in our communities and the world around us. Volunteer work such as Habitat for Humanity, etc. will be considered.

This award is not necessarily for designing the most complicated or largest structure. Our intent is to recognize our peers who are making a difference in our world and serving as role models for others as they perform their duties as structural engineers.

The Structural Engineer of the Year Award is presented to a structural engineer in recognition of their outstanding achievements in structural engineering; mentoring younger engineers and/or students; and their contributions to improve the quality of life for others.

The Young Structural Engineer of the Year Award is presented to a structural engineer who has been practicing in the field of engineering for 12 years or less, in recognition of their outstanding achievements in structural engineering and contributions to improve the quality of life for people around them.

To nominate someone for either or both of the awards, please complete and submit the attached application(s) to:

Nominations must be received by April 15, 2018. Only SEAMi members will be considered for these awards. SEAMi Board Members are not eligible.

Please help us to recognize our peers who are making strides to improve our profession, our community and our world. Winners will be selected by a panel of Structural Engineers from another state SEA association. Awards will be presented at the annual SEAMi Spring Conference on May 10, 2018, at the Kellogg Center in East Lansing.

Sincerely,
